

Website Boot Camp

Last Updated Tuesday, 28 October 2008

For the past 12 years Interlynk has designed and developed websites for many businesses. Now more than ever business owners need to know what will make their web site stand out from the crowd. Owner, Lynn Thompson will share with you how to get a return on your web development investment.

If you're looking to impact your business growth online, you should register for this new program "Website Boot Camp - Steps to add value to your website." There is absolutely no cost for this valuable program.

If you miss a session the entire call details will be emailed to you for downloading. I have only reserved a limited amount of phone lines for the call, so reserve your spot today.

Here are the program details: Every Month
Program Date: Every Fourth Tuesday
Program Time: 10 AM Eastern
Registration Fee: No charge
